

I understand you are considering establishing national telephone privacy standards. In doing so, please allow states to continue to mandate stricter telephone privacy standards as they see fit. Specifically, I urge you to leave the Indiana Telephone Privacy Act intact and in force. Since the law was enacted, our family has received a total of only two or three calls (total) whereas prior to the law, we were routinely interrupted and hassled by six to ten solicitations and other unwanted phone calls per day. These calls came as early as 6:30 a.m. and as late as 11:30 p.m. Indiana's Telephone Privacy Act has been extremely effective. Please do nothing to interfere with the outstanding privacy and serenity this legislation has returned not only to our family, but to thousands of Hoosier families throughout the state. Thank you for your thoughtful consideration of this request.
